A night scene in London featuring a red telephone booth and festive Christmas lights. The telephone booth is a classic red K6 model with a crown on top and the word 'TELEPHONE' in silver lettering. It is situated on a street with historic buildings in the background. Above the booth, there are large, illuminated snowflake decorations and strings of white lights. The scene is captured at night, with the lights providing a warm glow against the dark sky.

UK
